

ALAN HOLLANDER

CEO

Alan Hollander is the Founder and CEO of ePractice Manager, a nationally recognized dental practice and HR management firm with more than 30 years of experience helping dental professionals and specialists grow more profitable, well-managed practices. Over the course of his career, Alan has developed proprietary management systems and tools that have been implemented by thousands of practices across North America. Alan has built and led a team of more than 50 consultants and practice administration experts, delivering personalized training, online education, and comprehensive practice support systems. Through long-standing strategic partnerships, he has lectured to thousands of specialists and referring doctors on treatment plan presentation and increasing case acceptance.

Alan completed his undergraduate studies at Hofstra University and earned a graduate degree in Education from New York University.

ePractice Manager operates from offices in Portland, Oregon, and Belleair, Florida.

818-469-1239

alan@epracticemanager.com

epracticemanager.com